it this because of our beautiful skin color !

dimension) safely.

Hounds at the

If you are astral projecting and you hear a bell, these are the hounds. Since they can only move in angles, you need to return to this dimension spiraling before they capture you. If they do capture you, they can keep you 100 years. If you hear this bell it means you have crossed a boundary in the astral worlds not permitted.

Ida:

Part of the energy centers of the nose from the Yogic practices. You sniff air in one nostril while holding the other closed with your thumb. Then you open the closed nostril and breathe out while closing the other one called the pingala.

The

Leaving your

Body:

The process of one's soul ascending from the body after death. (The Final Passage)

Life River:
Everything

you have done in your life is stored in your blood platelets and is viewed after one leaves the body as long as the blood remains in the body for 3 ½ days.

You need this time to view your life , and view it in detail you will. This gives you what you need to work on for karma for your next life.
